

SHE WAS YOUNG.

And There Were Many, Many Things She Did Not Know.

"One thing is certain," an advanced maid, noticed, with decision, on the eye of her waiting—my husband shall move, call me "mamma." He may call me Clara or Mrs. Richards or even "Say," but I shall never be called "mamma." It is a horrible, impersonal name.

We mammals who heard her only smile and answered nothing at all, for each of us remembered that she was young and that there were many, many things that she did not know.

She did not know that when the sweetheart had changed to the wife and the wife to the mother there comes a wonderful first time. That first time that she feels the downy head nestling under her chin, that first time that she feels the restless pat, pat of little feet as she vainly tries to prison them in her hand, she learns then that her life has burst into a new and wonderful fullness. In her heart there is kindled the fire of love, and the intense that arises from it glorifies the whole atmosphere, and the warmth envelops her and her baby in an everlasting mantle.

Then in the dim light she sees bending over her the one that she loves best of all, and she reaches out her hand to him to draw him near, that he, too, may come within the enchanted circle that he, too, may breathe the sacred incense and be warmed by the heavenly fire. Laying his hand in hers, they look together into the new little face, but no word comes to express the strange sweet feelings that are surging through them both, bending close to her, he softly whispers, "Mamma."

It is a baptism. "All the sweet, intangible things that been filling her being have been caught and held in that word. The world may mean to mamma, but the name to her has a new and sacred meaning. Other names have been given her, other promises have been made in the giving and in the taking, but nothing so tender, so strong, so sweet as this, and her whole being goes out in an silent promise to live up to the sacredness of that name.—Woman's Home Companion.

SAYS NO ONE FEARS DEATH.

Experienced Physician Tells of a Popular Fallacy.

"I have seen thousands of persons die under all sorts of circumstances, and never yet have I seen one display the slightest fear of death." This remarkable statement was made the other day, according to the Philadelphia Record, by a physician who has practiced many years in Philadelphia and who has seen a great deal of hospital service.

"It is a popular fallacy," he went on "to imagine that a deathbed scene is ever terrible, other than as a parting between loved ones. The fear of the unknown is never present at the last. Even amid ignorance and vice I have never experienced such scenes as a novelist who strives after realism will sometimes picture.

"When a patient is told that he cannot recover and the end is near, he invariably seems resigned to his only thought seems to be of those who are to be left behind. This is true alike of men and women."

"Those who become hysterical and declare they are not fit to die are the ones who are not fit to live, they think they are. These always get well. A psychological reason? Oh, I don't know that there is any. It's just human trait.

ALL HANDS WANTED.

A novel poster was seen by a recent sojourner in Nova Scotia. It was printed on rough paper with red paint, in a childish hand, and was tacked to a telegraph pole in a conspicuous position. "There will be a concert and ball in Mrs. Parson's sitting room to-day, July twenty, at five o'clock sharp. Admission—Adults, five cents; children two cents; babies, two for a cent."

Know yourself and you will know others. Know yourself, and you will steer clear of many a dangerous reef. Know yourself, and you will live more at peace. Know yourself, and you will be stronger. Know yourself, and you fear no one but self, who may always be controlled. Know yourself, and you will give charity to others.

Mr. Charles T. Bland of Portsmouth will introduce in this House of Delegates a bill to regulate child labor in mills, factories and shops in Virginia. The age limit for children whose parents are living will be placed at fourteen years; children of widowed mothers will be allowed to work at twelve years if they are their sole support.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed at McCrum Drug Co.

"Can dogs find their way home from a distance?" is the question frequently asked. It is according to the dog. If it's one you want to get rid of, he can find his way back from the Philippines. If it's a good one, he's apt to get lost if he goes around the corner.
